Oscar starts Foundation Stage

We hope you enjoy this story about Oscar's first day at Welton Primary School. This has been written especially for you!

It was Tuesday morning and Oscar had just woken up. He had not slept too well because he was excited about starting his first day in foundation stage.

He didn't know what it would be like!

Oscar got out of bed and went down stairs to eat his breakfast. He ate his breakfast really quickly.

Oscar had a real struggle getting his new school jumper on – they were really meant for little boys and girls and not little orangutans.

Eventually he managed to pull it on. He was ready for his first day at school.

Oscar had been getting ready for coming to school for at least a whole week. He had been busy buying things and doing things to make him look smart on his first day.

Oscar had a new school bag and a water bottle for starting foundation stage. He even had to go and get a haircut before he started school. Oscar's mum said that he had to look smart for his first day at school. She took him to the hairdressers. Oscar found it tickly when the nice lady called Alice cut his fur. When she was finished he was pleased that he looked so smart. Now Oscar was ready for his first day at school.

Oscar picked up his bag, and stood waiting for his mum at the front door:

"Wait, just there," said his mum. "I want to take your photograph at the front door on your first day at school".

"Do we have to mum?" asked Oscar, who was too excited to get his picture taken.

"Of course, you do" said his mum. Now stand up straight and say "smelly bananas". Oscar's mum pushed the camera button and 'click' - the picture was taken.

Oscar felt excited and a little nervous about his first day at big school! He waited by the Foundation gates for the teachers to welcome him in with their smiley faces. Oscar told his teachers and friends all about his holidays and going back to visit his cousins in the jungle.

The foundation gates opened and Miss Brash was waving to Oscar and his friends and welcomed them in, where all the key workers were waiting too.

Oscar's mum waved goodbye and gave a big smile to him. Oscar waved back and went in to start his first day in foundation stage.

He walked to his key worker area and put his things away. Oscar's first job was to complete a fun little job on his table as he waited for the rest of his friends to arrive. Everyone was very friendly and there was music in the classroom to listen to.

Oscar then practised his reading and completed some writing activities. He then washed his hands and sat at his key worker table to enjoy a drink of water and a snack. After snack time, the teachers taught Oscar and his friends some maths and he had lots of fun. He even had time to play in some of the provision areas.

The adults then read a story to Oscar and the children. Oscar sat quietly with his friends and listened to the story. It was about Biff, Chip, Kipper and Floppy. He then washed his hands and ate his lunch with his new friends and went to play outside.

After lunch Oscar completed some more fun activities in the classroom and in the Foundation stage garden and before you could say "smelly bananas", Miss Brash was telling the pupils that the day was nearly over. They had to tidy up the classroom and wait for their mums and dads to come and collect them.

Oscar went home and told his mum all about his first day in Foundation stage. He told her all about the things he had learned that day. Before long Oscar was curled up tight in bed, with his dad reading him a story. He slept soundly and woke up early the next morning.

He was really hungry and sat down for breakfast. The first thing he shouted to his mum was...

Is it time for school yet? I can't wait to go back.
