

Welton Staff's best definition of British Values
April 2016:

Democracy:

Everyone can voice opinions yet all agree to accept the majority following a fair vote. It involves a hierarchy of opinion makers yet everyone plays their part.

Tolerance:

Respecting differences of any kind. Treating everyone fairly. Inclusion.

Fundamental Value:

A belief (moral). The central value /one that is based on the law.

To be British: To accept where we live and to have respect for all cultures, races, communities that are represented. To celebrate diversity and equality.

Individual liberty:

Freedom to act and make choices within the context of the law, freedom from persecution and freedom from harm/threat.

Mutual Respect:

Value everyone as a unique person irrespective of culture/faith/gender/belief- living in harmony with each other and safeguarding each others individual liberty and mutual responsibility.

Welton Staff's best definition of SMSC

April 2016:

Spiritual:

Reflective.

Appreciative of the world around you.

Can be defined by religion

Moral

Not defined by religion

Knowledge of right and wrong

Awareness of the impact of own actions.

Social

Establishing positive relationships

Being friendly

Being able to communicate

Wider awareness of people beyond an inner circle

Understanding impact of social consequences.

Cultural

Personal knowledge of own heritage which can be shared or communicated

Knowledge of others.