

Can you think of times in school where you are encouraged/free to have a choice or an opinion?

What rules do you have at school?

What rules do we have in this country?

What happens if people break rules?

Is OK to make a mistake? Explain.

Which groups of people do you think are respected?

Are there any types/groups of people you think are less respected than others and why?

What is the monarchy?

What is a democracy?

Do you have chances to vote for what you want in school?

How do you feel when an idea you give is not used?