Letters from 'Bullies' and 'Victims'

Dear Bully,

I am writing to tell you that you are hurting my feelings. I was really upset when you broke my bike and I had to use my little sister's pink bike on holiday. By the way it's not fun being made fun of on holiday. I don't know why you are bullying me but I am here for you if you want to talk to me.

Love Victim.

Dear Bully,

I understand that your Dad broke up with Your Mum in your early life BUT why bully me for this?

When you broke my electric car it stopped me entering the electric car contest. I hope you have learned that bullying is wrong!

From Victim.

Dear Bully,

I know your dad died last week and I'm sorry but it was wrong to take your anger out on me. I hope you understand what you have done has a consequence on other people's life. Once you broke my arm we had to cancel my holiday to Spain. You have a one day suspension just to think about what you have done to my life and your own.

From Victim

Dear Victim,

I am so sorry for what I did. I didn't mean to harm you. It is just that I was upset about my dad dying. I think I got what I deserved. But I have learned that bullying is not always or never the answer. I just wanted to make people feel the pain I do! Also I am still having trouble finding some friends so if you forgive me – please forgive me. I know I should not have taken my anger out on you. I promise I won't bully anyone ever again. I am sorry for what I did.

From the Bully.

Dear Victim,

I am very sorry for not being very nice to you . I have been feeling very lonely so I thought I would make everyone feel as bad as I did then everything would be ok. Obviously I did the wrong thing and now people are hurt. I hope you accept my apologies.
